

Allied Real Estate Schools and Buffini & Company

Driving early career success

Allied Real Estate Schools, a Colibri Group company, are teaming up with real estate coaching powerhouse Buffini & Company to provide prelicensing students the tools they need to become top-performing agents in California.

ABOUT THE PARTNERSHIP

As a supplemental resource to Allied's prelicensing courses, students of Allied Real Estate Schools have exclusive access to career coaching videos, presented by Buffini & Company, a proud Allied partner.

Hosted by Buffini & Company's founder, Brian Buffini, these videos offer real-world advice and insights to help students start (and succeed) in their real estate career. In addition, aspiring agents also have access to the New Agent Starter Kit, which provides career tools, tips, content, and more.

BENEFITS FOR STUDENTS

Allied Real Estate Schools' partnership with Buffini & Company prepares students for long-term career success. Every Allied student will now have access to:

- Exclusive videos featuring valuable real estate industry insights, motivational support, and practical tips to help students learn the business of real estate
- Buffini & Company's New Agent Starter Kit—a curated library of podcast episodes, videos, ebooks and more
- An exclusive discount to Buffini & Company's "100 Days to Greatness" course

About Brian Buffini:

Born and raised in Dublin, Ireland, Brian emigrated to San Diego in 1986 and, within a decade, became one of the nation's top-producing real estate agents. He founded Buffini & Company in the mid-'90s as a way to share his powerful lead-generation systems with others.

Since 1996, the California-based business has trained more than 3 million business professionals in 41 countries and coached more than 25,000 business professionals.

His podcast, "It's a Good Life," has over 13 million downloads and has featured guests like Matthew McConaughey, Terrell Davis, and Karch Kiraly.
